Local and General

The Crossfield Postmaster was instructed to keep a count of all mail coming into and leaving the office for two weeks recently. The following was the result:--

Letters despatched 6,634
Parcels and Papers 922
Letters received 8,917
Parcels and Papers 7,361

Some fine specimens of beef cattle were seen in the stockyards during the past week. They were owned by Mr. R. Walsh and Sons, west of town and were shipped through the U. F. A. These cattle added more glory to Crossfield as a stock raising district as they topped the market. The U. F. A. also shipped a car of hogs.

Crossfield Baseball Club pulled off a double-header during the past week, Didsbury came down on Friday night last, when a very interesting and keenly contested game was played. Didsbury are real good sports and kept up their reputation on this occasion, taking the short end of a 3-2 score with their usual sportsmanlike manner. George had good support all the way also allowing very few hits, the chief features being a splendid catch at right field by Earl Brown, exceptional good work at first base by Roland Amery and good pitching by Pines, the game was keen all through, Didsbury evidently had their eye on the pennant.

The second game of the week was Crossfield vs Airdrie at Airdrie, on Monday evening last to play off the tie game of Tuesday night previous. Crossfield were somewhat handicapped as some of the regular players were absent, however the boys had lots of confidence and went at it with a good will. Airdrie was taking no chances and had a few new men in their line-up but were unable to hold their own with the brand of ball put up by our boys. The result was 5-4 in favor of Crossfield. Airdrie were game to the last and managed to get 2 of their 4 runs in the last half of the last inning with still 2 men on bases which goes to show they were out to win. The result of this game tied Crossfield and Didsbury for first place in the Rosebud League and the final game which will have to be played on neutral ground is expected soon. Everybody should make an effort to be present at this game and root the boys to victory and the Rosebud League Pennant.

BIRTH

To Mr. and Mrs. R. Reid, on Monday, August 9th, a son.

The next meeting of the Inverles Ladies Aid will be held on Thursday, August 19th, at the home of Mrs. Dewitt. These meetings are held every two weeks during the summer months, and much interest is being shown by the ladies of the district. New members are being added at the various meetings and visitors are always welcome. Some of the ladies from town have attended on different occasions and their presence was appreciated.

The following were successful in passing the Departmental Examinations held in Crossfield, week ending June 25th. Grade 8

"You're sure good medicine, Gloss," he said. "Yes, we are getting quite a nice plot of ground cleared, and I look for quite a nice yield this year, both in corn and taters. Trappin' don't seem to promise much for this winter, though. The noise and chatter of Hallibut's mill seems to be drivin' the mink and rats across the bay."

"Can't we make him take the mill away from Lee Creek?" asked the girl. "I hate the sound of it. Its noise drowns the song of the birds and its smoke hides the blue of the sky between the trees. What right had he to put that mill there, uncle?"

"Well, he owns a strip of bush on Totherside," explained McTavish. "It comes right up to Lee Creek. So you see the mill is on Hallibut's own property."

"Oh, look, uncle," cried the girl, "there's some black squirrels crossing the corn-stubble now—five of them. I do believe aunty would relish a bit of stewed squirrel. I meant to tell Boy to shoot one or two for her this mornin', but he was gone before I was up."

Joe, the setter, broke from the thicket and loped across the corn-field. All summer he had acted as custodian of the field, and even now the squirrels stood in mortal terror of him, and the crows cursed him in guttural croaks from the tops of tall trees beyond the danger-line.

As the squirrels took to the lone hickory in the centre of the field, Boy McTavish came quickly around the corner of the house. He stood the clumsy hand-made fork he carried up against the lean-to, and mopped his face with his sleeve.

"Where?" he whistled, "but it's turned out a fine day after all. Never known Injun summer to hang on so long. Hope it keeps up, dad, and we'll get the corn all husked, yet before trappin' time. Suppose we have a bee and a dance at night, same as we did at the wood-bee? Declute is goin' to have a Juggin'-bee soon."

"Hello, Gloss," he called, catching sight of the girl, "How's ma this mornin'?"

"Better and hungrier for squirrel," she answered, her eyes on the treed blacks.

She ran into the house and returned with a rifle. She handed big McTavish the powder horn and, bracing her feet, cocked the gun.

"How far?" she asked, throwing it to her shoulder with a practiced hand.

"Sixty yards, anyway," answered big McTavish.

"Nigher eighty," asserted Boy. "Too far, Gloss, you'll miss sure."

A gleam of mischief shone in the gray eye sighted along the brown barrel. Then the rifle cracked, and a black ball detached itself from the hickory and went swinging down to earth in tiny circles. The dog gave a low whine and came bounding forward, the squirrel in his mouth, and allowed Boy to take it from him.

"Right between the eyes," said Boy proudly.

Big McTavish relayed the rifle and handed it back to Gloss. His face was wrinkled in a grin of mingled surprise and admiration.

"Neither you nor me could do any better, Boy," he said hesitatingly by way of admission.

"The one on the left next," mumbled the girl, and the rifle spoke once more.

"Missed," gasped the man, "can't always make a bulls-eye, Glossie."

"Missed nuthin'," cried Boy, "there he comes now."

The second squirrel spun about on limb a couple of times, then went crashing through the branches. "As Bill Paisley would say, 'that's remarkable shootin''," chuckled McTavish. "That distance is well over eighty yards, else I don't know distance."

"Nearer a hundred, I should judge," contended Boy. "She's got all the rest of the McTavish's beat, dad."

"Try another, Gloss," suggested McTavish, placing the cap on the nipple of the rifle with clumsy fingers.

"I thought maybe two would be enough," said the girl.

She took the rifle once again and glanced at Boy.

"Oh, go on, Gloss," he encouraged, "only one more. Fact is, I'm a bit hungry for corn-ed squirrel myself."

"And I'm thinkin' I wouldn't turn up my nose at a plateful of stewed squirrel either," seconded the father.

"All right, just one more shot, then, hit or miss," laughed Gloss.

"See that chaps two ears and part of his head stickin' up above the knot? I'll take him this time, I guess, though it's no easy shot."

She fired, and the squirrel dropped from the limb. Another whine from Joe proclaimed it a clean kill.

Big McTavish, without so much as a word, took the gun inside. Boy held the animals up by their bushy tails and the girl who was watching him said:

"You ain't carin' much to see the blacks killed ever since the time you had Tommy for a pet, are you Boy?"

"Well, I don't know as I'm carin' much one way or 'other," he answered slowly. "Tommy was a cute little beggar, but he wasn't really a black."

He was a gray squirrel. Greys are gentler and make much better pets than blacks. Tom Peeler one time had a black for a pet, and used him mighty good for two years. But one day that black pretended he wanted Tom to play with him and tickle him as he was used to doing, and it gave him a bad bite. No, the blacks are too cross for pets."

"Boy," said the girl suddenly, "I meant to tell you before—old Injun Noah was tellin' me yesterday that there's a big gray fox who makes his home on the Point. Noah says he's the biggest silver-gray he ever saw. Say, he's as big as a timber-wolf. But he is so cunning' nobody can get a shot at him."

"Well," smiled the boy, "I guess we needn't go after that feller, and you needn't worry about a one little silver-gray. Just you wait awhile and you'll know what I mean."

He winked mysteriously, and Gloss laughed. Then her face grew grave.

"That man Watson was over here this mornin', Boy," she said. "You know what he wanted and you know how he'd get it. Well, I guess him and uncle had words. I was hidin' in a bunch of willows at the spring when he was goin' back, and when he passed me he was swearin' awful."

"Was he ridin' toward the trail or going toward Totherside?" asked Boy, his face darkening.

"I watched him cross the creek, and when he got across he rode toward the schoolhouse."

Boy turned away. Then he paused and looked at the girl.

"I watched him cross the creek, and when he got across he rode toward the schoolhouse."

Boy turned away. Then he paused and looked at the girl.

"Boy," she said wistfully, "I wish we didn't have no school in this place. I wish Simpson would go away."

"Why?" he asked quickly. Slowly her eyes sank and her bosom heaved as her breath came in quick gasps.

He reached out and caught her, and for the first time in their young lives the girl struggled in his arms. He let her go, and stood back wondering. She looked at him and smiled. Her face was pale, and her long lashes did not conceal a look of dumb entreaty.

"Gloss—" he commenced.

"Boy," she whispered, "we're built for chums, and chums we'll always be. But the old rompin' days are over now. Boy, you mustn't take me—you mustn't hold me like that again. We ain't boy and girl no more."

He bent and picked up the squirrels. When he stood up again she had gone.

"We ain't boy and girl no more," he repeated.

Where Pontius Pilate Reigned

Colonel Storrs, Graduate of Cambridge, is New Governor Of Jerusalem

The office of governor of Jerusalem once occupied by Pontius Pilate, is now held by Col. Ronald Storrs, a graduate of Cambridge University, and son of the Dean of Rochester College, England.

His task is one to test the administrative ability of any man. Jerusalem is a city of disunions, where, whatever may come of the future, for the moment, Zionists and Arabs are passionately divided, and to steer a just path between them and induce them to join him on that path is thankless work.

It is to that task, however, that he chivalry devotes himself. Twice a week he has meetings of his favorite pro-Jerusalem society, when French, Italians, British, Americans, Rabbis, Zionists, leaders, commercial men of standing and others who are in any way prominent in the life of the city are brought together and in the course of debate, led to see that they have in common a single citizenship. His motto as governor is, "unity and be friends."

Colonel Storrs was one of the prime movers in the establishment of an independent Arab kingdom. He is 38 years old.

HERE TO STUDY PROBLEMS

Purpose of Visit is to Learn More About This Dominion

Halifax.—Outlining the problems facing the English-speaking countries of the world and urging the necessity for co-operation between all countries, Lord Burnham addressed a large gathering of publishers and citizens of Halifax and district on the occasion of a civic luncheon tendered to the delegates to the Imperial press conference.

Robert Donald expressed the hope that the 'moral lapse' of the United States will be temporary and that the United States would yet come to assume some of the responsibility devolving upon it through its triumphant entry into the war. Viscount Burnham was the chief speaker on behalf of the overseas delegation, and acknowledged formal welcome given the press in Halifax. He reiterated that the purpose of the visitors from beyond the seas, as they affect the world publishers, was to see Canada and learn more of her problems and her people and regarding empire unity.

Several of the delegates spoke in the same vein informally during the Halifax welcome.

The afternoon was spent in informal social functions.

Employment Increase

Reports From 5,100 Employers Indicate That Industries Are In Good Shape

Ottawa.—Reports from over 5,100 employees to the Dominion, headquarters of the department of labor employment service indicate that, disregarding loss of time due to the strikes, there was another increase in the volume of employment during the week ending June 26. For the following week, however, there was a net decrease in staffs of 140 persons, or two percent. The decline was attributed mainly to the estimated curtailment of operations in the iron and steel group of industries because of a shortage of fuel. In comparison with the returns for six months earlier in the year the firms reported that they had made very considerable additions to the number of persons on their payroll.

French Fighter Injured

Montreal.—An injury to Georges Papineau, lightweight champion of France, in the fifth round of his scheduled ten-round bout here, with Fighting Fred Fitzgerald of Australia, brought the bout to an abrupt end. Papineau fell through the ropes and struck his head on the corner of the press table, being rendered unconscious. Up to this time there was little to choose between the two men, both fighting toe to toe for the four rounds.

Five-Year-Old Killed

Winnipeg.—Frank, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dier, died at the Children's Hospital from the effects of scalding when he fell into a pan of boiling water yesterday. The boy was playing in the home with two sisters younger than himself when the accident happened.

Will Spend $30,000,000 on Railway

Victoria.—Further construction of the Pacific Great Western railway is foreshadowed by the request from Hon. J. Hart, minister of finance, for bids for a loan of $30,000,000 to be devoted to construction work on the railway.

Bolshevik Menace

Constantinople.—Refugees from Sultana and Kustendje in eastern Rumania, are arriving here in large numbers, fleeing from the Bolshevik menace. They report that it is to be highly unsettled in Rumania and declare that a Bolshevik movement is feared.

Paris Waiting for Turks

Peace Will be Signed if the Italo-Greek Controversy Is Patched Up

Paris.—If the Turkish delegates are not detained on their journey from Constantinople and arrive in time, it is probable that the peace treaty with Turkey will be signed at Sevres as planned. There is a possibility, however, that Greece may withhold her signature from the treaty because of the controversy between Italy and Greece over the recent Aegian wrangle. The belief is expressed in the French official circles that the Italo-Greek controversy would be settled in time for signing.

The difficulty that loomed largely this evening was the fact that the Turkish delegates had not put in an appearance and that its whereabouts did not appear to be known. The delegation appeared to have left Bucharest on a train that should have brought it to Paris. Nothing has been heard of the Turkish plenipotentiaries, however, since the report of their departure from the Rumanian capital.

Ottawa.—Pinning their faith on the powers of a newly invented device for the detection of gold deposits, Andrew Cullins, a well known prospector of Haileybury, and Rev. Father Theriault, of the same town, passed through this city on their way to the south seas in the hope of finding the hidden pirate treasure on Treasure Island. It is claimed that the trip is being financed by a New York Capitalist, whose name has not been disclosed. Final arrangements are to be made when the travellers reach New York.

Wheat in Storage

Ottawa.—According to returns received at the department of statistics for the week ending July 9, the quantity of wheat in storage at the different elevators throughout Canada has decreased by 3,674,504 bushels in wheat, oats, barley, fax and rye. The chief decrease was in the lake elevators which was 1,311,324. In the western country elevators the decrease in all grains was 620,000 bushels.

Three Saved from Drowning

Were Rescued From Sinking Pont On Pike Lake

Saskatoon.—By a narrow margin, Alex. Wemyss, his wife and their baby daughter, 701 Thompson Chambers, were saved from what might have been three drownings in Pike Lake when Harry Tupling, of this city, and Hugh Forbes, boatman at Pike Lake, got to the sinking pont in which Mr. Wemyss and his family were sailing, in time to drag them out. It sunk almost immediately. Mr. and Mrs. Wemyss are none the worse for their experience.

IRISH MAKE A NEW MOVE FOR PEACE

FOR A DOMINION POLICY

Nationalists Are Joining With the Others in Framing This Policy

Dublin.—Renewed activity is apparent in Irish political circles favoring dominion authority. Many Irish men of all political faiths are subscribing to the new funds being asked for and asking for Irish self-government.

Nationalists hitherto violently opposed to this course have come round to favor it and have the support of the Freeman's Journal, which in recent months, under a new proprietorship, could not be distinguished from the Sinn Fein organization.

In agreeing to waive the republic can claim and accept county operation for Ulster, groups have met both parties and agreed to waive certain agreements so that the settlement can be received, and Sinn Feinners think this will be the best policy. The Irish Journal looks forward anxiously to an adjustment of the difficulty. Influential Irishmen, under Lord Dunraven's leadership, are endeavoring to improve the conditions with the British government, and the Sinn Fein leaders to meet the premier, it is declared.

Powerful influence on the Sinn Fein policy is exercised by the Republican army which numbers more than 200,000, and has been described as occupying towards the Gael Eireann, the same relations as Cromwell's Ironsides, did to the commonwealth parliament.

Villa Surrenders

No Bonus for Industries

Prairies Cannot Hope for Manufacturing Until Population Grows

Quebec.—The twentieth anniversary of Canadian municipalities, in session here went on record as opposing bonuses by municipalities as an inducement to industries to establish plants.

J. D. Saunders, city clerk, of Cambridge, Alta., and secretary of the Union of Municipalities, spoke on the recent progress of western municipalities. During his speech he said that until the west has a population commensurate with its vast areas, there is no use of talking of establishing industries. J. N. Bayne, of Saskatchewan, discussing the bonus question, remarked that if firms were not strong enough to stand on their own feet without the aid of bonuses they should not look for help from the municipalities.

Alderman Dickson of Montreal, expressed his opposition to the bonus system. A firm which could not do business without a bonus was not worth much, he stated.

JOINT REPLY TO THE NOTE FROM SOVIETS

PREMIERS IN AGREEMENT

Poland Must be Represented in the Proposed Conference

London.—Mr. Lloyd George, before leaving Boulogne, informed the Reuter correspondent that a complete agreement had been reached on all points. It has been decided, subject to Italy's approval, to send a reply to Russia saying that certain things must be made clear before the allies will attend the proposed conference. Poland and other border states must participate in the conference whose primary object is to establish the peace of Europe. Then the conference could discuss the question between Russia and the allies with a view to establishing normal relations.

If the Soviet replies that it could only make peace separately, the conference will fall to the ground, according to Mr. Lloyd George. If the Soviet complies, the conference can meet within a month.

The British prime minister added that Premier Millerand and he agreed that a good piece of work was done at Boulogne.

How a Windbreak Adds Dollars to The Prairie Farm

Any body of trees which gives protection to buildings or crops may be called a windbreak. This article has to do, however, only with belts of trees planted about fields and farm buildings, especially for the purpose of breaking the force of the wind. The typical windbreak is a belt consisting of from six to eight rows of trees and usually from a quarter of a mile to a mile in length.

The influence of a timber windbreak upon air currents is purely mechanical. Its effectiveness depends, therefore, upon how nearly impenetrable it is. The ordinary windbreak does not provide an absolute barrier to the wind; a certain amount of air forces its way between the branches and foliage of the trees, so that the movement of the air on the leeward side is not completely stopped but only greatly reduced. When windbreaks composed of such trees as cottonwood become old, wide openings are left between the bare trunks and more wind get through near the ground than higher up. Such windbreaks can be made efficient only by underplanting the cottonwood with other trees or shrubs.

An ideal windbreak for checking wind currents would have the contour of an earth dam. In the central rows would be planted the tallest trees. Such a windbreak would not be easily penetrated, and its inclined surface would divert the air currents upward and relieve the horizontal wind pressure.

Breaking the mechanical force of the wind benefits the farmer most directly by protecting his grain crops and his orchard. The value of the windbreak in giving this protection is, of course, difficult to measure in dollars and cents, but where winds are at all frequent such protection alone may be equal to the value of the ground occupied by trees. In one case in southern Minnesota, a windbreak, 80 rods long and about 28 feet high along the side of a cornfield afforded complete protection for a strip about 10 rods wide during a wind blowing at 50 miles an hour. On the unprotected part of the field the wind blew down half the corn and bent the remainder half way, the damage beginning at the edge of the 10-rod strip and increasing until it was greatest in that part of the field farthest from the windbreak. The corn was in the milk stage at the time of the high wind and did not produce more than a third of a crop on the damaged area. On the protected portion the total saving was 260 bushels, or the full crop of 6 acres, whereas the windbreak occupied only 2 acres.

Movement of the topsoil also may be checked and dust storms prevented by breaking the force of the wind. For this reason windbreaks are of immense benefit in sandy regions or regions where the soil is very fine.

Added to the crop and soil protection that is the seasonal comfort to be derived from protection from wind along the farm and home and along public roads. Furthermore, a protected home is heated in winter more readily, and hence more cheaply, than one exposed to the wind.

There is no part of the United States, except small areas in the Cascade Mountains, which normally obtains more precipitation than is needed for growing the best crops. The farmer usually plows, cultivates and mitches with the object of conserving every drop of water that may reach the soil during the year. In the "dry-farming" regions of the West these conservation measures are carried farthest. Here it may be said to be necessary to save the moisture of two seasons to grow a single crop.

Anything which helps to conserve the moisture of the soil is of direct benefit to the farmer. The windbreak has this effect in a marked degree. The drying power of the wind is reduced by the windbreak very nearly in the same proportion as its velocity. In the immediate lee of the most effective windbreaks evaporation is reduced as much as 65 percent. Farther from the trees the reduction is less. The amount of reduction depends not only upon the density and proximity of the windbreaks, but upon whether the field is fallow or in the crops. The saving in moisture is least when the field is fallow, so that the only reduction is in the direct evaporation from the soil; it is greatest when the field is in crops, so that there is a reduction not only in the direct evaporation from the soil but also in the evaporation from the leaves of the crops.

The more frequently winds occur in any locality during the growing season, and the greater their velocity and drying power, the more important it is to use every means of preventing evaporation. Windbreaks are especially valuable, therefore, in the west, where hot, dry winds, often of high velocity, are of frequent occurrence during the summer months.—Extract from article by Carlos G. Bates, U. S. Forest Service.

The Latest at Greenwich Observatory

Observatory Founded Centuries Ago Keeps in Line with the Latest Developments

Once every year, a rather quaint ceremony is observed at Greenwich Observatory. An inspection of the Observatory is made by a "Board of Visitors" to whom the Astronomer Royal presents a report on the work of the preceding twelve months. The latest report shows that although the Observatory was founded centuries ago, at the very dawn of scientific navigation, it keeps in line with the latest developments. A new aerial has been erected to extend the range of wireless time signals can be received. These signals are now received regularly from the Eiffel Tower, Nauen, and Annapolis. The Observatory also controls the operation of time-balls in different parts of the country. These time balls are hoisted on a prominent mast and released at specific hours by an electric signal from the Observatory. The accuracy of the operation is checked by a return signal from the distant time-ball. Greenwich also controls "Big Ben" the famous clock of the Houses of Parliament.

Mammoth Incubator Now Under Test

Huge Incubator Installed at Experimental Farm at Ottawa

The ten thousand egg mammoth incubator installed by the poultry division at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in 1919, did not give very satisfactory results during the first part of last year. It has again been tested and gave fair results during the early part of the present season, or during the time that the machine was not loaded to full capacity. However, when loaded to capacity, or nearly so, the later hatches have been poor.

Upon investigating the cause of last year's poor hatches it was decided that the chief cause of the trouble was the lack of good ventilation. When this trouble was remedied and sufficient ventilation given, the hatches were improved. This year the same conditions were provided, and the results were quite satisfactory while the machine was not carrying its full load, but as soon as it was filled to near its capacity the hatches were unsatisfactory.

It is intended to give this machine a further test in the new incubator cellar is built this season.

Backbone of The Country

Dr. Toimie Says Agriculture Will Help Pay Canada's Debt

That agriculture would play one of the most important parts in the paying off of Canada's war debt was one of the chief points made by Dr. Toimie, federal minister of agriculture, when he addressed the Canadian Club of Regina at a luncheon.

Despite the fact that there had been a steady increase in acreage in the last ten years, Dr. Toimie said, there had also been a noticeable decrease in yield per acre, the result of the one-crop system. Such a condition led naturally to mixed farming with livestock as the basis.

During his travels in the west, Dr. Toimie said he had been struck by the absence of cattle on the land. There was a fine opportunity in Canada for a campaign for improvement in the quality of stock grown as well as the seed grown. "An increase of these bushels to the acre in the production of wheat in Canada," he said, "would mean an annual increase to the country of over $118,000,000, and over $2,000,000 could be added to the income of the country by the adoption of more intelligent and enterprising methods of agriculture in all lines." Annual experiments carried out on the government's experimental farms had shown, said the speaker, that a great increase in yield could be obtained from the use of good seed and the rotation of crops. The use of fertilizers was coming to be a necessity in parts of Canada, but not yet in the western provinces.

"Over $500,000,000 could be added to the wealth of the country every year if the farmers would exercise more intelligence and enterprise in their agricultural operations," declared Dr. Toimie. A great deal had already been accomplished by the Dominion and provincial governments in encouraging them to do so, but a great deal remained to be done. The dairy industry in particular needed encouragement. They were not enough silos in the country. Corn and sudanese could be grown in the west successfully as silage crops. The results of the international exhibition at Chicago showed that Canada could grow as good livestock as any country in the world. It required intelligence and enterprise, though, to do it.

Edison Greet Telegraphers

Sends a Message Over Wire For the First Time in Nineteen Years

Gripping a telegraph key for the first time in 19 years, Thomas A. Edison sent a message to posterity from his home in Orange, N.J. The rattle of the instrument as it clicked off the inventor's message was inscribed on an imperishable phonograph record, and placed in the archives of the Historical association here. The message was sent directly to a committee of the old-time telegraphers, and was:

"Amid the activities of a busy life full of expectations, hopes and fears, my thoughts of early association with my comrades of the dots and dashes have ever been to me a delight and pleasure. I consider it a great pleasure to record in Morse characters on an indestructible disc this tribute to the telegraph, electricity through the telegraph, and with it a Godspeed to the fraternity throughout the world."

Federal Government to Help

Will Expend Five Millions in Highway Improvements

During the first year in which the federal highway scheme is in force, five millions will be expended on road improvements throughout the Dominion. Three million will be contributed from the federal treasury and two millions by the provinces.

While the Dominion government undertakes to spend a maximum of $20,000,000, the demand for grants has not been heavy so far, because this is the first year of operation and the provinces have not yet had an opportunity to prepare their plans.

Getting along on a past reputation gives a half-starved look.

Agricultural Education Necessary in Every Branch of Farming

At a meeting of the Select Standing Committee of the House of Commons on Agriculture and Colonization called to consider the standardization of the parts of farm machinery the Honorable S. E. Toimie, Minister of Agriculture, endorsed the proposed policy and expressed the hope that the difficulties in the way would be overcome. He then addressed the committee on the subject of agricultural education, emphasizing its value as applied to the livestock industry. He said, "Through education we can look for greater improvement in the livestock industry of the Dominion. The scrub bull campaign is an educational campaign and in every province there is a great field for the improvement of live stock. Even in Ontario we find that 47 percent of the bulls in use are scrubs."

Better business methods for the farm were also advocated. The minister recommended that we should be more careful in counting the cost of production. The farmer who carries on mixed farming has perhaps one or two lines that are paying, some on which he is losing, and some on which he breaks even. It is in his interest to find out which of these lines are parasites on the thriving departments of the farm. By counting the cost of production, the farmer would not only be able to devote more energy toward developing the profitable branches, but he would be in a position to eliminate the unprofitable. In this connection he referred to the marketing or farm products, and extended hearty congratulations to the farmers whose co-operative enterprises have been so successfully conducted. He considered that this work properly belonged to the activities of the farmers themselves and as an illustration of the value of co-operative practices he related his personal experiences of co-operative creamery operations in British Columbia, where a system was developed that raised dairyming from a lilypond undertaking to a methodical, profitable and growing business.

Community breeding was a point the minister considered of vital importance at the present time. For instance, one group in a certain area stick together and produce one breed, say Jerseys or Guernseys, so that such a centre might become known as a Jersey or Guernsey centre, where buyers would be able to purchase car-load lots without having to search throughout a whole district containing many breeds. Community breeding is an excellent advertisement for any community and it will receive the hearty encouragement of the Department of Agriculture. The accredited fairs system, which has been inaugurated by the department, and is making good headway, will tend to attract buyers from other countries where the same system is in operation. Accredited where a guarantee behind them, and it is of advantage to breeders who are specializing in good stock.

Throughout his address Dr. Toimie urged the necessity of education for farmers in every branch of agriculture. He showed conclusively that success in agriculture is largely due to education; proper methods of cultivation, conservation of soil fertility and moisture, together with timely attention to seasonal requirements, go far to insuring abundant crops. Along with this a practical knowledge and study of market conditions throughout the world, and a good understanding of local demands, enable us to dispose of our product at the right time and at adequate prices. A knowledge of the requirements of the human animal is essential if we are to get most out of life. This is especially true in the rural districts, where the knowledge must embrace the mental, physical and spiritual needs of both ourselves and our neighbors. The home life, community life, and the life of the nation are largely dependent upon our mental attitude toward our work and our outlook on life in general.

Prefers the Open Spaces

Arctic Trapper Sees Motor Car For the First Time

"The good old Arctic circle for mine," declared W. D. Clark-trapper and trader from the Eagle River country in the Arctic, after viewing for the first time the changing scenes of life in a bustling, modern city. "For the first time in my life I have seen street cars, automobiles and sky scrapers; have mingled with your crowds," he said. "It is all very strange and wonderful, but it is not my choice. I would not exchange for all this the vast open spaces, the great out-of-doors of the Arctic circle. It has been my home for 33 years, and I hope to get back there in August." Mr. Clark brought some magnificent fox and marten skins valued at $9,000.

Thirty-three years ago he left Vancouver for Calgary; travelling thence to Edmonton in an old Red River cart and by the same method he continued the journey to the great rivers of the north.

Assistant Butter Grader Appointed

Mr. H. A. Hanson has been appointed assistant butter grader and creamery instructor with the Dairy Branch of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture and will enter upon his duties at once. He was born in Denmark where he received a thorough training in dairy work, and came to this country six years ago. Since then he has been making butter in the United States and Canada, becoming thoroughly familiar with dairying conditions in this country. Last year he was in charge of the Dauphin Milling and Creamery Company's plant at Preceville, Sask., and during the past winter he attended the special course at Iowa State College.

Aerial Landing Places

Making Early Cross-Country Flights From One End of Dominion To The Other

Landing places will shortly have all been marked out for cross-country air flights in Canada, after which time it will be an easy matter for an aviator to leave, say Halifax, and his route charted through to the opposite side of the Dominion, with landing places marked on his map at distances of about fifty miles apart. He will then know where to strike if a forced landing is imminent.

Capt. Drummond, of the Air Board staff, Ottawa, has just completed a survey of the country between Winnipeg and Sudbury, locating suitable airfields and airmen to be chartered for cross-country flying. In seeking the locations, Capt. Drummond travelled by the Canadian National Railway to Hearst, and then by Grand Trunk Pacific. The landing places are marked along the lines of railway, which will be followed by airmen on their first attempts.

It is expected that flying will be in progress at all four of the Air Board's stations in Canada by the middle of August. The station at Vancouver is now in the course of construction, and machines are being sent. Mechanics are on the ground at Morley, Alta., and machines for use there are going forward at once. Rockcliffe hangar has been opened and Camp Borden is already the scene of some military flying. Classes at the latter camp will begin as soon as the necessary regulations have been approved by the cabinet council.

"And you broke off the engagement?" said one young man.

"Yes, not brutally, you know. But I managed it."

"How?"

"Told her what my salary is."

Trend of the Times

What Western Cities are Doing in The Building Line
Comparison is a mighty good guide from which to judge the trend of the times.

A comparison of the building activities in the Prairie cities point to an optimistic viewpoint and a belief that the present cost of building is not only justified but not likely to make any rapid decline.

January 1st to May 31st
City 1919 1920
Calgary ... $1,076,800 $1,245,500
Edmonton ... 128,775 1,396,725
Regina ... 453,760 1,273,650
Winnipeg ... 475,750 4,190,000

In Winnipeg, building permits for June, as at June 28th were approximately $1,700,000, as against $22,900 for 1919.

A very good percentage of this wonderful increase is for individual homes, of which thousands are being erected.

Approximately 600 houses and 14 schools will be built in Winnipeg in 1920. This is but an indication that is prevalent throughout Western cities of own "your own home" and "build now" idea.

Make it an individual question to settle with yourself. Are you a renter—in a home—a suite? Why not catch that "Build Now" spirit. Own your own home.

Recruiting for Militia
Training Camps to be Established in All Parts of Canada

Reorganization of the militia forces of the Dominion is proceeding satisfactorily at present insofar as the selection of commanding and other officers is concerned, according to officials of the headquarters staff. It is not expected, however, that a great deal will be done in the way of recruiting before September. Then, it is expected, recruiting will get off to a good start, in view of the arrangements which have been made to train at local headquarters by city corps and some artillery and machine gun units.

By next summer, when it is fully expected that training camps will be established in all parts of Canada on a pre-war basis, it is believed that the various authorized regiments and other military units, will, without difficulty, be brought up to full strength.

Canada is A Most Attractive Land to The Immigrant

In an article on Canada as a land of opportunity, the Manchester Guardian points out that never in her history has Canada been a more attractive land to the immigrant with political ideals. "Her growing sense of nationhood, no less than her fresh outlook on her internal problems," the Guardian says "offers to a man of independent mind and democratic outlook a real hope of shaping things as he would wish in a new country. And above all her needs in importance is that of immigrants of the right stamp, men with the character and the fortitude to settle her great empty spaces that yield so rich a return to those who will dare and tame them, men who appreciate a country where needless social distinctions go by the board, and where the dignity of labor is more than a phrase."

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes Breakdown

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health tends to weaken her. Heavy toils, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and relief at hand. When well, it is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs rich blood and plenty of it. There is one way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make your blood, and through their use thousands of weak, ailing wives and mothers have been made bright, cheerful and strong. Lift Right Off Without Pain

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops burning, then the corn itself is right off with the fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" at about a cent. sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

For Manitoba Highways

Manitoba to Receive Federal Grant of $80,000 for Good Roads

The Manitoba provincial treasury will this year be partly relieved of the burden of providing good roads in Manitoba, according to Hon. Geo. A. Grierson, minister of public works. Federal legislation which becomes effective provides that the federal government shall give the province a flat grant of $80,000 for construction of roads, and bear the burden of 40 percent of roads constructed. It is stated, however, that the flat grant is included in the percentage quoted. An official request for this assistance will be made by the provincial government in the immediate future.

Under the present provincial legislation the government bears 50 percent of the cost of construction in market roads and sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the cost of construction on provincial highways. In both cases, however, it is required that the roads be gravelled. One of the stipulations on which federal government pays 40 percent of the cost is that the particular road construction work on which this has been paid must be submitted for approval to the federal board set up under the act.

Navy Reduced to Point of Prudence
Earl Beatty, receiving the freedom of Sheffield, said that with the disappearance of the German fleet they were released from the burden of competitive building, but they must bear in mind that the day would come when western ships must be replaced, and under the present financial conditions very little would cost a great deal. The navy, he said, was now reduced to the lowest limits consistent with prudence.

He will be a man of mediocre ability and of unimpeachable party regularity. His name may be Warren Harding. On the other hand, it may be James M. Cox.

With so thorough a preparation at hand as Miller's Worm Powders the mother who allows her children to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjected to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy and will be stunted in its growth. It is a merciful act to rid it of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done without difficulty.

Local & General

The Women's Institute for the Cochrane Constituency will hold their first Annual Constituency in Airdrie, on Saturday, August 14th. This includes the Institutes of Crossfield, Columbia and Airdrie. Besides the Annual reports from each Institute and their plans for the coming year we will have two special speakers sent by the Department of Agriculture. These are Mrs. Harold Bayly, of Birmingham, England, who, besides being a distinguished speaker is a Journalist of note and a Trade Analyst. Mrs. Bayly is especially interested in women. Mrs. A. H. Rogers the Provincial Sec.-Treas. is the other speaker sent by the Department. Mrs. J. F. Price, Convenor of the Publicity Committee of Women's Institute will also speak and Mrs. C. M. Ekstrom, of Columbia, will give a short address. Besides these an interesting program is being arranged, consisting of Community singing, instrumental and vocal selections from the three Institutes of Crossfield, Airdrie and Columbia. We would like every member of the Women's Institute from the three societies to be present, we also extend a cordial invitation to every woman who can attend. Tea will be served.

A Flower Service was held at the Union Church on Sunday evening last. A beautiful display of flowers was shown, having been donated by Mrs. Arnott, Mrs. Casey, Mrs. McRory, Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Jeffery. The flowers included gorgeous Sweet Peas which made a particularly fine appearance, Larkspur, Pansies, Columbine and others. An address was given on the subject of "The Flowers." Reference was made to the fact that the Fuchsia has been brought to us from Chile, the Lily and the Tulip from the Levant, the Carnation and Pink from Italy. One of the Shriners on a visit to Portland, Oregon, saw there in one garden eleven hundred varieties of Roses. Wonderful improvements have been made in the flowers through man's skill and perseverance. The world owes a great deal to such men as Burbank, the wizard with flowers and fruits. The story was told of Charnay, unjustly imprisoned during the troubled times of the French Revolution, who, in his bitterness wrote upon the wall of his cell "All things come by chance." But a flowering plant growing in his cell restored him to faith and he rubbed out the old writing and instead wrote "All things come from God." It is said that very few horticulturists ever become criminals, their interests and surroundings are so beautiful and truthful. On Monday the flowers were sent to the Calgary General Hospital, to cheer the sick.
